As a qualified teacher turned film maker, I bring a unique skill set: exceptional communication, organisation, time management, and the ability to work seamlessly with diverse personalities under pressure. I am eager to continue developing skills in coordinating logistics, production scheduling, production documentation and budget management. Over the past few years, I've worked across a wide range of feature films, TV series, and independent productions, with credits on projects currently streaming on Netflix, Binge, ABC, and SBS. My ultimate goal is to be able to create the kinds of shows I love—authentic, bold, inclusive—and to build a collaborative, supportive community for new and emerging filmmakers.
